

Teaser from the upcoming book The Re-Education of the Female by author Dante Moore Sr. available in stores July 15, 2008

CHAPTER 7

ARE YOU AN INDIRECT PROSTITUTE?

The dictionary defines a prostitute as One who engages in sexual activity indiscriminately, especially for money. When a man and a woman first meet, you both know what it's all about. Ultimately you both want to have sex but you have to play the game first, right? During this process, on average the man is usually footing the bill. Not because he wants to but because this is what's required and accepted by society as the correct practice of courtship. Rarely does the woman pay anything because this is what society has taught women to do. Usually it starts out slow. A woman meets a man at some random spot, and she feels comfortable enough to give him her number. Soon he calls her, and they talk on and off for a few days until they both arrange a date to meet and go out. He drives over her house to pick her up. He's using his gas (gas money), he takes her out to the movies or wherever (movie money), he takes her out to eat (food money), and then drops her off back home (gas money). Let's add this up, shall we? Around twenty dollars for gas depending upon how far she lives from him, twenty dollars for the movie, and thirty-five dollars for dinner and a tip. That comes out to about seventy-five dollars. This process goes on in different variations and locations until they ultimately have sex. The woman usually hasn't paid a dime throughout this entire process. The only difference between this and a street-walking prostitute is that the street walker eliminates the dinners and movies and just takes the money. You can get a good fuck from a second-rate prostitute on the street for around seventy-five dollars. Some will give you a suck and a fuck for that much. So by this definition, a virgin is the biggest indirect prostitute of all because she requires the largest investment in order to have sex. So when Mommy tells you to go out and get a man who has money and can take care of you, all she's doing is telling you to go out and be the biggest whore you can be. In other words, make him pay for the pussy. According to the dictionary, that's how a whore is defined.

Copyright 2008

Dante Moore Sr. —AKA— (The Re-Educator)

<http://www.thereeducation.com>

Preorder the book today!